NATURE OF THE ACTION

1. This is a proceeding for monetary damages and equitable relief relating to Defendants’ violations of the FLSA, concerning Plaintiffs and those workers similarly situated (“Collective Action Members”). Additionally, Plaintiffs bring claims based on Defendants’ violations of the NYLL, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23, on behalf of a class of concierge workers of Defendants with similar compensation structures (“Class Action Members”).

2. Plaintiffs’ causes of action arise from Defendants’ systematic pattern of preying upon and exploiting immigrant workers, particularly ones that are undocumented.

3. The multi-layered scheme begins with Defendant Biren J. Shah, who owns and operates a business under the trade name “Apple Commuter Inc.” The company holds itself out as a provider of transportation and concierge staffing services for major hotels throughout New York City. In fact, its sole function is to act as a front to multiple hotels, by supplying these hotels with airport drivers and concierge desk staff who are paid unlawfully low wages, substantially below applicable minimum wage rates, with no overtime pay despite regularly working over 70 hours per week. This scheme also enables the Hotel Defendants to employ staffers in their hotels at pay rates that not only are shockingly below the minimum wage rate, but also at a fraction of the pay rate negotiated with their union workers, sometimes 90% less than the hourly rate they would have to pay their union workers for overtime pay.

4. The concierge workers are, for all intents and purposes, employees of the hotels. Their work is essentially limited to the premises of the hotels, they take instruction and orders from superiors employed by the hotels, and it is impossible to distinguish them from other hotel personnel. For example, when one of the Plaintiff desk workers would step away from the Hotel concierge desk for a break (such as to use the bathroom), the Hotel Defendants' manager would complain to them that they should never leave the desks unattended, even for short breaks. And in yet another egregious example of the Hotel Defendants' managers' conduct towards the Plaintiff employees, some of the Hotel Defendants' desk managers decided that the concierge staff should be standing up at all times, instead of alternating between sitting and standing while on duty. When the Plaintiff employees complained to the Hotel Defendants' superiors that it was extremely difficult and painful to stay on their feet for over 12 hours per day, they were told that they could not do otherwise because it was "unprofessional" for the concierge to be sitting down at his or her desk. In short, these indirect employment operations were and are simply an attempt to disguise the true nature of the employment relationships and to disassociate the hotels from compromising and actionable practices.

5. Specifically, Defendant Shah, through his company, has staffed the following hotels (herein "Hotel Defendants"), with Plaintiffs and other similarly situated workers:

6. Defendant Apple Commuter Inc.’s business model relies on the company’s ability to prey upon vulnerable, newly-arrived immigrants. Defendant Shah and Hotel Defendants specifically hunt and target young people, with questionable immigration statuses, whose psyches have already been debilitated by poverty, separation from their families, and, oftentimes, years of abuse.

7. After luring these immigrants in with promises of a better future, Defendants exploit them by mandating that they work unspeakable hours in consideration for legally insufficient and morally reprehensible compensation. The slightest of objections are met with threats, scare tactics, and intimidation, so as to allow the Defendants to continue to capitalize on these women.

8. As a result, Plaintiffs and other similarly situated workers were, and continue to be, compelled to labor five (5) to seven (7) days per week, in excess of twelve (12) hours per day, for compensation of merely $5.00 per hour, and with no overtime pay. Defendants have regularly and deliberately denied Plaintiffs and other similarly situated workers minimum wage, overtime compensation, and “spread of hours” pay.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

1. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1337, and 1343. In addition, the Court has jurisdiction over Plaintiffs’ FLSA claims pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 216(b).

2. Plaintiffs invoke supplemental jurisdiction over claims arising under New York law pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367(a).

3. Venue is proper in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b) because all or a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claims occurred in this district, Defendants operate their businesses in this district, and Plaintiffs were and/or are employed by Defendants in this district.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

Introduction

89. Defendant Apple Commuter Inc. is a staffing agency, owned and operated by Defendant Shah, that supplies transportation and concierge services to the Hotel Defendants.

90. The operation and success of Defendant Shah's business rests upon a policy of victimizing "easy targets." Particularly, Defendant Shah seeks out and preys upon vulnerable young people, who are often recently arrived, undocumented immigrants.

91. Defendant Shah recruits these immigrants to work for the lodging establishments, Hotel Defendants, through promises of safety, stability and lucrative futures.

92. When they ultimately acquiesce, Defendant Shah makes them execute a contract that imposes various rules, duties, and obligations upon them. Said contract is never given to the workers, even upon request.

93. In this manner, Defendants target Plaintiffs and those similarly situated.

94. Defendant Shah recruits these immigrants to work for Hotel Defendants through promises of safety, stability, and lucrative futures.

95. Once workers are committed, Defendant Shah directs their daily actions. Through text messages and telephone calls, he issues commands concerning at which Hotel Defendant the employee will be employed and for how long.

96. Plaintiffs and those similarly situated are paid around sixty dollars ($60) per day, for a twelve (12) hour shift. They are not paid any overtime compensation. They typically work between five (5) and seven (7) days per week. Defendants do not permit the workers to take personal or sick days. Workers do not receive any benefits or employee perks.

97. If Plaintiffs or employees similarly situated object to or protest Defendants' demands, they are badgered, ridiculed, and/or emotionally tormented with threats of blackmail.

98. Defendants' exploitative, abusive, and unlawful practices have caused Plaintiffs and other similarly situated workers substantial damages.

Joint Employment

99. The work of Plaintiffs and other similarly situated workers is at all times performed on the premises of the lodging establishments owned and operated by the Hotel Defendants. The Hotel Defendants provide Plaintiffs and other similarly situated workers with materials and equipment utilized in the ordinary course of business, such as telephone, office supplies and uniforms, and organize their work schedule.

100. Once Plaintiffs and others similarly situated commenced their shifts for a particular Hotel Defendant, they essentially “belonged” to that lodging establishment. Furthermore, Plaintiffs and other similarly situated workers were retained by the Hotel Defendants on an ongoing or long-term basis.

101. Plaintiffs and other similarly situated workers perform straightforward tasks. Their work requires minimum training, little to no specialized skills, and is carried out in a repetitive manner on a predictable schedule. Consequently, the “staffing device” used by Hotel Defendants was in response to, and as a means of avoiding, labor laws.

102. Plaintiffs and other similarly situated employees were at the disposal of the Hotel Defendants. Because the Hotel Defendants exercised a substantial amount of immediate control over the workers, if the outsourcing relationship between the Hotel Defendants and the intermediary were to disintegrate, Hotel Defendants could elect and offer to continue to employ Plaintiffs and others similarly situated.

103. Plaintiffs and other similarly situated workers reported to, took orders from, and were subject to discipline by, managers and supervisors designated by the Hotel Defendants. The Hotel Defendants set work schedules and payment methods, thereby effectively controlling the terms and conditions of Plaintiffs’ and other similarly situated workers’ employment.

104. During their respective shifts, Plaintiffs and those similarly situated worked predominantly and exclusively for a particular Hotel Defendant. For those periods, a specific Hotel Defendant would retain Plaintiffs and other similarly situated workers who, in turn, would be economically dependent upon said Hotel Defendant. Throughout that employment time, the individual Hotel Defendant would have complete control over the workers and their activities.

105. Defendants Shah, Apple Commuter and individual Hotel Defendants are joint employers, and act in the interest of each other with respect to employee Plaintiffs, pay employee Plaintiffs by the same method, and share control over the employee Plaintiffs.

106. Each individual Hotel Defendant, Defendant Shah and Defendant Apple Commuter had a right to control the means and manner of the Plaintiffs' performance.

107. Each individual Hotel Defendant, Defendant Shah and Defendant Apple Commuter possessed substantial control over the policies and practices with respect to the employment and compensation of the Plaintiffs.

108. Each individual Hotel Defendant together with Defendant Shah and Defendant Apple Commuter jointly employed Plaintiffs and are jointly and severally liable to the Plaintiffs.

109. In the alternative, each individual Hotel Defendant together with Defendant Shah and Defendant Apple Commuter Inc. constitute a single employer of the Plaintiffs.

110. Defendants had the power to hire and fire Plaintiffs, controlled the terms and conditions of employment, and determined the rate and method of compensation in exchange for Plaintiffs' services.

111. At all relevant times, the work performed by Plaintiffs simultaneously benefited and was directly essential to the businesses operated by Defendants.

Defendants' General Employment Practices

112. Defendants have jointly employed, and/or continue to jointly employ, Plaintiffs and all similarly situated workers within the meaning of 29 U.S.C. § 201 et seq., and NYLL § 650 et seq.

113. Each Defendant has been and remains individually considered an “employer” within the meaning of 29 U.S.C. § 203(d).

114. Defendants have been and continue to be enterprises engaged in interstate commerce within the meaning of 29 U.S.C. § 203(s)(1) with annual gross revenues in excess of $500,000.00.

115. The Hotel Defendants have been and continue to be employers in the hospitality industry within the meaning of NYCRR § 146-1.1.

116. Plaintiffs and similarly situated workers were employed and/or continue to be employed as concierge workers by the Hotel Defendants.

117. Plaintiffs perform tasks including, but not limited to, answering telephone calls, welcoming customers upon entrance, confirming reservations, acting as a point of reference for guests who need assistance or information, and arranging events, excursions, and transportation upon request from hotel guests.

118. Plaintiffs are, and at all relevant times were, covered employees of Defendants within the meaning of the FLSA, 29 U.S.C. § 203(e) and NYLL §§ 2 and 651.

119. Plaintiffs are, and at all relevant times were, entitled to be compensated for each hour worked during their employment with Defendants. 29 U.S.C. § 206; NYLL § 160.

120. Defendants were obligated to pay Plaintiffs, as non-exempt employees, at a rate not less than the minimum hourly wage for each hour worked. 29 U.S.C. § 206; NYLL § 160(1).

121. Defendants are, and at all relevant time were, required to pay Plaintiffs overtime pay at the statutory rate of not less than one and one-half (1 and ½) times the regular rate of pay for all hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours per week. 29 U.S.C. § 207; NYLL § 160.

122. Plaintiffs are, and at all relevant times were, required to be compensated at an hourly rate in compliance with the FLSA, proscribing a minimum hourly rate of $7.25, and

New York minimum wage law, proscribing a minimum rate of $8.75 per hour effective December 1, 2014, and $11.00 per hour effective December 31, 2016. 29 U.S.C. § 206; NYLL § 160(1).

123. During the duration of their employment, Plaintiffs were consistently paid approximately five dollars ($5.00) per each hour worked.

124. Defendants have failed and/or continue to fail to pay Plaintiffs the minimum wage for regular hours worked.

125. Plaintiffs have regularly worked, and/or continue to work, more than forty (40) hours per a week while employed by Defendants, without being properly compensated for the overtime hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours per week.

126. During the duration of their employment, Plaintiffs have worked and/or continue to work twelve (12) hour daily shifts for five (5) to seven (7) days per week, which thereby amounts to sixty (60) to eighty-four (84) hours worked per week.

127. Defendants have failed to pay Plaintiffs overtime wages for hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours per week.

128. Defendants have also failed to pay Plaintiffs an extra hour of pay for “spread of hours” worked in excess of ten (10) hours per day.

129. In addition to failing to compensate Plaintiffs for regular and overtime hours worked, Defendants directed Plaintiffs to work off the clock or without documentation in order to avoid paying Plaintiffs proper compensation for such hours.

130. Plaintiffs were and are subject to Defendants’ common practices, policies, or plans, including, but not limited to, failing to pay at least minimum wage for all regular hours worked, failing to pay at least one and one-half (1 and 1/2) times the regular rate of pay for all overtime hours worked, failing to compensate Plaintiffs and similarly situated workers for hours worked off the clock, and failing to keep accurate time and payroll records in violation of the FLSA and the NYLL.

131. Defendants failed to properly compensate Plaintiffs for regular hours worked according to minimum wage laws for hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours per week at a rate of at least one and one-half (1 and 1/2) times the regular hourly rate and for hours worked off the clock throughout the term of their employment with Defendants.

132. Plaintiffs have each consented in writing to be a party to the FLSA claims in this action pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 216(b).

133. Defendants willfully disregarded and purposefully evaded recordkeeping requirements of the FLSA and the NYLL by failing to maintain accurate and complete timesheets and payroll records.

134. Defendants' unlawful conduct was intentional, willful, in bad faith, and caused significant damages to Plaintiffs and other similarly-situated current and former workers.

COLLECTIVE ACTION ALLEGATIONS
FAIR LABOR STANDARDS ACT

135. Pursuant to 29 U.S.C. §§ 206, 207, and 216(b), Plaintiffs bring their First and Second Causes of Action as a collective action under the FLSA, individually and on behalf of similarly situated persons, under 29 U.S.C. § 203(e)(1), which consists of all current and former non-exempt employees of Defendants who were not paid minimum wages, overtime wages, and/or for hours worked off the clock in the past three years before the filing of this Amended Complaint until final judgement is entered (the "Collective Action Members").

136. At all relevant times, Plaintiffs and Collective Action Members are and have been similarly situated, have had substantially similar job requirements and pay provisions, and are and have been subjected to Defendants' common decisions, policies, plans, designs, programs, practices, procedures, protocols, routines, and rules, all culminating in: (i) a willful failure and refusal to pay them the required minimum wage, (ii) a willful failure and refusal to pay them an overtime premium for hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours each workweek, and (iii) forcing them to work off the clock. The claims of Plaintiffs stated herein are essentially the same as those of the other Collective Action Members.

137. The claims for relief are properly brought under and maintained as an opt-in collective action pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 216(b). The Collective Action Members are readily ascertainable. For purposes of notice and other purposes related to this action, their names and addresses are readily available from the Defendants. Notice can be provided to the FLSA Collective Plaintiffs via first class mail to the last address known to Defendants.

CLASS ALLEGATIONS
NEW YORK LABOR LAW

138. Pursuant to NYLL, Plaintiffs bring their Third, Fourth, and Fifth Causes of Action as a class action under Fed. R. Civ. P. 23, individually and on behalf of concierge workers of Defendants with similar compensation structures and who are or were employed by Defendants on or after the date six years before the filing of this Complaint until final judgement is entered (the “Class Action Members”).

139. The “Class Action Members” consist of certain subclasses of employees, including:

a Subminimum Wage Subclass: Class Members who were not paid the minimum wage required for hours worked in violation of NYLL § 652 and NYCRR § 146-1.2 (“Subminimum Wage Subclass”).

b Unpaid Overtime Subclass: Class Members who were not paid overtime compensation for all hours worked in excess of forty (40) per week in violation of NYLL § 190 et seq. and NYCRR § 146-1.4 (“Unpaid Overtime Subclass”).

c “Spread of Hours” Subclass: Class Members who were not paid an extra hour of pay for “spread of hours” worked exceeding ten (10) hours per day in violation of NYCRR § 146-1.6 (“Spread of Hours’ Subclass”).

Ascertainability

140. The Class Action Members are readily ascertainable. The number and identity of the Class Action Members are determinable from the records of Defendants. The hours assigned and worked, the positions held, and rates of pay for all Class Action Members may also be determinable from Defendants’ records. For purposes of notice and other purposes related to this action, their names and addresses are readily available from the Defendants. Notice can be provided by means permissible under Fed. R. Civ. P. 23.

Numerosity

141. The Class Action Members are so numerous such that a joinder of all members is impracticable, and the disposition of their claims as a class will benefit the parties and the Court. Although the precise number of such persons is unknown because the facts upon which the calculation of that number rest are presently within the sole control of Defendants, there are in excess of twenty-five (25) Class Action Members.

Typicality

142. Plaintiffs’ claims are typical of those claims that could be alleged by any Class Action Member and the relief sought is typical of the relief that would be sought by each Class Action Member in separate actions. All of the Class Action Members were subject to the same corporate practices of Defendants. Defendants’ corporate-wide policies and practices affected all Class Action Members similarly and Defendants benefited from the same type of unfair and/or wrongful acts as to each Class Action Member. Plaintiffs and other Class Action Members sustained similar losses, injuries and damages arising from the same unlawful policies, practices and procedures, all culminating in: (i) a willful failure and refusal to pay them the required minimum wage, (ii) a willful failure and refusal to pay them an overtime premium for hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours each workweek, and (iii) forcing them to work off the clock. The claims of Plaintiffs stated herein are essentially the same as those of the other Class Action Members.

Adequacy of Representation

143. Plaintiffs are able to fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Class Action Members and have no interests antagonistic to the Class Action Members. Plaintiffs are represented by attorneys who are experienced and competent in both class action litigation and employment litigation and have previously represented plaintiffs in wage and hour cases.

Superiority

144. A class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy – particularly in the context of the wage and hour litigation where individual class members lack the financial resources to vigorously prosecute a lawsuit against corporate defendants. Class action treatment will permit a large number of similarly situated persons to prosecute common claims in a single forum simultaneously, efficiently, and without the unnecessary duplication of efforts and expense that numerous individual actions engender. Because losses, injuries and damages suffered by each of the individual Class Action Members are small in the sense pertinent to a class action analysis, the expenses and burden of individual litigation would make it extremely difficult or impossible for the individual Class Action Members to redress the wrongs done to them. On the other hand, important public interests will be served by addressing the matter as a class action. The adjudication of individual litigation claims would result in a great expenditure of Court and public resources; however, treating the claims as a class action would result in a significant saving of these costs.

145. The prosecution of separate actions by individual Class Action Members would create a risk of inconsistent and/or varying adjudications with respect to the individual Class Action Members, establishing incompatible standards of conduct for Defendants and resulting in the impairment of the Class Action Members' rights and the disposition of their interests through actions to which they were not parties. The issues in this action can be decided by means of common, class-wide proof. In addition, if appropriate, the Court can, and is empowered to, fashion methods to efficiently manage this action as a class action.

146. Defendants and other employers throughout the state continuously violate statutory labor laws. Current employees are often afraid to assert their rights out of fear of direct or indirect retaliation. Former employees are fearful of bringing claims because doing so can harm their employment, future employment, and future efforts to secure employment. Class actions provide class members who are not named in the Complaint a degree of anonymity, which allows for the vindication of their rights while eliminating or reducing these risks.

Commonality

147. The Third, Fourth, and Fifth Causes of Action are properly maintainable as a class action under Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3). There are questions of law and fact common to the class that predominate over any questions solely affecting individual Class Action Members, including, but not limited to:

- a. Whether Defendants have and are engaged in a pattern or practice of not paying minimum wage compensation for all hours worked;
- b. Whether Defendants have and are engaged in a pattern or practice of not paying overtime compensation for all hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours per week;
- c. Whether Defendants have and are engaged in a pattern or practice of not paying an extra hour's pay for the "spread of hours" worked;

- d. Whether Defendants' failure to pay proper minimum, overtime, and "spread of hours" wages to Plaintiffs and the Class Action Members constitutes a willful violation;
- e. Whether Defendants failed, and continue to fail, to make accurate records of actual time worked by Plaintiffs and the Class Action Members;
- f. Whether Defendants failed, and continue to fail, to maintain accurate records of actual time worked by Plaintiffs and the Class Action Members;
- g. Whether Defendants failed, and continue to fail, to report all actual time worked by Plaintiffs and the Class Action Members; and
- h. Whether Defendants failed, and continue to fail, to preserve accurate records of actual time worked by Plaintiffs and the Class Action Members.
